

Age of Chivalry Not Dead After All

In a recent match between Glenrothes D and Carse of Gowrie Juniors, it appears there were five rather than the normal four, knights at one board.

A certain Bisko Simeoneov had the move with a clear king and rook checkmate available. Thinking this over for a minute, the gallant and noble Bisko decided to offer his young female opponent the draw rather than take the clear win. You can work out for yourself the reaction of D-Team captain, one Bruce Geddes, to this display of gentlemanly conduct.
