

CHESS CLUB REOPENS

This week sees the reforming of Glenrothes Chess Club.

The Club was formed five years ago and has enjoyed an interesting semi-decade of friendly and league matches with other clubs in Scotland.

Although it was one of the first chess clubs to be formed in Fife, the membership has never been large. It is hoped that with the growth of technological industries based in and around Glenrothes the Club membership may be considerably strengthened. Indeed, a newcomer to the area would expect that with the large number of 'think-tanks' around that a lot more people would be interested in further intellectual stimulation.

The club has been fortunate enough to obtain suitable premises in the canteen of Beckman Instruments Limited and it is felt that the possession of a permanent home will prove a stimulus to the development of true 'club' feeling.

A meeting is to be held in the canteen of Beckman Instruments Limited on Wednesday at 7 p.m., and all intending to attend are requested to contact the organisers at any of the telephone numbers quoted in the advertisement on the back page of this issue.
